Not illustrated. 1902 Excerpt: . . . in wood and such carpentry work as teachers often demand. These boys with the vice-rincipal and myself have worked afternoons, at night, on Saturdays nd on holidays. Some teachers object to this, and it would not be a good thing for the practice to become widespread on account of the personal expense entailed. But the work undertaken was difficult and the boys engaged are all of the higher grades. And then it is our motto that more people die from over-sleep than from over-work. A manual training center is not considered complete unless in addition to a wood-working shop for boys it contains a room properly equipped for the teaching of household arts to girls. One such center is in operation at Hopkins avenue and Federal street. In it 204 girls of the 8th grades of Groups E, F, I, H, and J receive weekly instruction. The second cooking center will open January 10th. It will provide for 325 girls of twelve different schools. THE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE LAW. When the school attendance law goes into operation in January, some special provision will need to be made for the instruction of pupils who have been so irregular in attendance as to be too old for the grades in which their attainments would place them, and for boys who are unmanageable in the regular schools. A school for such pupils should deviate from the regular course of study. Much stress should be put upon reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic...
