Making Reform Work: The Case for Transforming American Higher Education

By Robert Zemsky

Rutgers University Press. Hardback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Making Reform Work: The Case for Transforming American Higher Education, Robert Zemsky, "Making Reform Work" is a practical narrative of ideas that begins by describing who is saying what about American higher education - who's angry, who's disappointed, and why. Most of the pleas for changing American colleges and universities that originate outside the academy are lamentations on a small number of too often repeated themes. The critique from within the academy focuses on issues principally involving money and the power of the market to change colleges and universities. Sandwiched between these perspectives is a public that still has faith in an enterprise that it really doesn't understand. Robert Zemsky, one of a select group of scholars who participated in Secretary of Education Margaret Spellings' 2005 Commission on the Future of Higher Education, signed off on the commission's report with reluctance. In "Making Reform Work" he presents the ideas he believes should have come from that group to forge a practical agenda for change. Zemsky argues that improving higher education will require enlisting faculty leadership, on the one hand, and, on the other, a strategy for changing the higher education system...
